

ABOUT THESE O.F.C. VINTAGE WHISKEYS

O.F.C.

BOTTLES FOR CHARITY

Buffalo Trace Distillery will release three unique vintage-dated bourbons honoring the National Historic Landmark's original name - the O.F.C. Distillery.

LEARN MORE

The most state-of-the-art distillery of its era featured cooper fermentation vats, column stills, and a first-of-its-kind steam heating system, still used in the warehouses today. This very rare and collectable bourbon honors the O.F.C. Distillery, a National Historic Landmark known today as Buffalo Trace Distillery. Each hand-cut crystal bottle is vintage dated according to the specific year in which the bourbon was distilled. Enjoy this whiskey of a bygone era, sourced from barrels of yesteryear.

Only 200 bottles of bourbon, dating back to 1980, 1982 and 1983, were released. Davis Street received a 1980 vintage bottle to raise money for 2017 programs and services.

The mission of Davis Street is to improve health, address poverty and increase the overall quality of life of residents in the Eden Area. We accomplish our mission by providing strategic assistance through a variety of integrated services that identify, focus, and build on our clients' natural strengths. For over 46 years, Davis Street has been a beacon of hope helping low-income families throughout our community to improve their quality of life through short and long term assistance. Our services include medical, dental, behavioral health care, emergency food pantry, clothing program, and our holiday toy basket program, which annually provides a holiday meal and toys to over 1,000 families each year.

We will receive bid offers until February 28, 2017. Starting bid offer for the O.F.C. Bourbon Whiskey is $8,000 with a goal of reaching $9,000. 100% of the money raised will go towards funding our 2017 programs: healthy cooking classes, basic needs food and clothing program, healthcare insurance outreach and enrollment, and medical/ dental community outreach.
